

BRIT43
30th June 2004

KEEPING BRITAIN MOVING SEMINAR ANNOUNCED

Britpave, the transport infrastructure group, is to hold its 2004 Annual Dinner and Seminar on 27 – 28th September at the Belton Wood Hotel, Grantham. Under the theme of 'Keeping Britain Moving', the event will examine major issues facing the UK transport infrastructure and includes a keynote address from Archie Robertson, Chief Executive of the Highways Agency.

Specific topics to be covered include the launch of a new concrete motorway safety barrier, the use of slab track in the UK, infrastructure demands of regional airfields, the use of polypropylene fibres industrial handstandings and an update of the CRCP designs and specification plus its use on the Antwerp Ring Road project.

For further details and booking information contact Britpave on tel: 01276 33160 or visit: www.britpave.org.uk

ENDS

Notes to editors.

1. Britpave (British In-situ Concrete Paving Association) promotes the better and greater use of concrete for transportation solutions. Its members include major contractors, specialist contracting companies, specialist equipment and material suppliers, consulting engineers and interested trade associations. Together they provide a single voice for the in-situ concrete paving industry. For further information see www.britpave.org.uk
2. Issued by Steve Elliott, Constructive Dialogue, tel: 01276 36735, email: condialogue@aol.com

---000---